OPERATION CARTWHEEL, TO THE GATES OF JAPAN,
PACIFIC FIRE POWER

War In The Pacific – Vol. 1

Over 90 min of rarely before seen interviews, documentaries, war footage and more from private libraries of veterans from WWII. This action packed and stunning DVD contains the following programs:

“Operation Cartwheel” - During the war in the Pacific a major campaign was developed designed to seize control of the Pacific from the Japanese. Known as “Operation Cartwheel,” it was the brainchild of General Douglas MacArthur. A key piece of the strategy was to neutralize the Japanese stronghold on Rabaul. This selection chronicles this little known but strategic Pacific War campaign.

“To the Gates of Japan” - The US Military found it self woefully ill-prepared to deal with Japanese aggression after the attack on Pearl Harbor and the rapid Japanese advance into the Pacific. But slowly and deliberately the tables began to turn as the US Navy began its massive program of rebuilding. This production details how the US climbed back into the war: First by rebuilding the navy, then by fighting the strategic battles that would lead to Japan’s ultimate downfall.

“Pacific Firepower” - After the battle of Midway the United States went on the offensive against the Japanese in the Pacific. As the losses mounted for the Imperial Japanese Navy, the United States began to seize control of much of the territory occupied after the attack on Pearl Harbor. This production focuses on the bloody campaigns for Guam and Saipan and the key land and sea battles leading up to it.

In addition, you get “Iwo Jima to Corregidor,” a documentary short - With the Japanese Navy and Air Force essentially destroyed, the United States began the final phase of the conquest of Japan. After knocking the Japanese out of the Philippines the US Navy and Marines sailed to Iwo Jima and one of the bloodiest battles of WW2.
