Air Warriors Vol. 1

The National Combat History Archive is dedicated to the aggregation, preservation and dissemination of military combat and military related film, photographs and personal memoirs. The mission of the National Combat History Archive is to make this important history accessible to researchers, educators, students and historians so that the record of America's rich military heritage will be preserved for generations to come. Over 90 min of rare interviews, documentaries, war footage and more from private libraries of veterans from WWII! This action packed and stunning DVD contains the following programs: Gun Camera: Corsair Vs Zero - Shot by Corsair fighters during WWII in the Pacific Theatre of Operations (PTO), this movie gives you a remarkable up-close look at aerial combat between U.S. Navy Corsairs and Japanese Zeros. While the entire film is in color, a few segments have been converted back into black & white to capture as much action as possible. Gun Camera Europe: Raw Vol. 1 - This volume is comprised of 359th Fighter Group footage, including the films of several aces. The 359th Fighter Group was stationed at East Wretham, England during the war. The group flew a total of 346 missions with enemy aircraft claims of 253 in the air and 98 on the ground. Collecting and Reporting Enemy Activity - Aerial reconnaissance played a key role in interdicting and destroying enemy troop movements and supply depots. This production details an air unit as it conducts its operations in the Pacific Theater.
