

Liberty In Restraint

Behind the eyes of a fetish photographer.

As an aspiring photographer the clandestine world of bondage and discipline, dominance-submission, sado-masochism, fetish fashion and alternative sex held a powerful attraction for Noel Graydon. For five years he trained and worked as a BDSM 'Master' in the sex-trade and established the friendships which enabled him to genuinely document this world as an "insider looking out".

Peeking behind the scenes on many of Noel's fetish portraits, we enter a curious world of rope artists, lapsed Catholics, pain sluts, adult babies, electro-torture and blood play enthusiasts who approach absolution and sexuality like "an advanced driving course in sex", and where the initiated take carnal license to the extreme.

LIBERTY IN RESTRAINT delves deeply into Noel's life and portfolio to reveal his work in progress, the passion for his art and its themes, as well as the community he loved to photograph before his tragic death in July 2007.

"Liberty in Restraint is simply the best documentary on BDSM, and the people that practice and enjoy it, that I've ever seen. It's totally engrossing, absolutely authentic, and well done. Worth watching for the fetish clothing alone. But best of all is how deeply director Michael Ney dives into the real life and psyche of its main subject, Noel Graydon - something rarely seen in sex documentaries.

This film is a classy sex classic."

"An unashamed heart-felt documentary that attempts to find the big heart throbbing deep within the most hardcore of sexual expressions."

—Julian Shaw, FILMINK Magazine

"A fascinating programme... its style is frank, revelatory and refreshingly non-judgemental."
