

I AM VIRGIN - MVD

I am Virgin is an erotic spoof of I am Legend that is a popcorn flick if there ever was one. A virus has expunged most of the world's population, and all the survivors have been turned into horny vampires who crave not blood, but sex. All, that is, except one: Robby (Adam Davis). He's supposedly the last "normal" human being on Earth. He's also a virgin whose only companion is his basset hound, Billy. The story is simple and repetitive: The lustful Robby wanders around looking for other human survivors. Instead, he finds wanton vampire men and women acting on their carnal desires. Robby can't participate for fear of being infected, so he frustratedly returns home, where he gives webcasts complaining about his plight.
