HAGGARD/Eppur Si Muove & Awaking The Centuries (Drakkar Productions) This is some really off the wall stuff. There is violins and chanting vocals and some death metal stuff on here as well. I am not a big fan of this, however, it is very, very different and unlike anything I have ever heard before. This stuff is very different and you would have to be very open minded to enjoy it and I did to a point. Some will like, others will love and some will hate. Check em out and decide for yourself.
