I'll admit that I was quite surprised by the fact that I'd never heard of this band..they were around in the late 80's, released a Dana Strum produced record, & the first song on the cd, musically, reminds me of early Pantera at times...the vocals are more along the lines of a poor mans version of early Helloween..it's nothing great, but the music, that's where the magic is...it's old school thrash metal that's rips your face off! Most of these recordings on this cd are early & rare demo's that never got pressed onto cd & the quality isn't always the best, but musically, I'm diggin' the hell out of this collection of pre 90's thrash metal...they definitely fit in well with bands like Testament & DRI, who are the bands direct peers for sure!
