Hated: GG Allin and the Murder Junkies

GG Allin (Born Jesus Christ Allin) was no doubt one of the greatest American comedians of the past century. His untimely death broke the hearts of thousands of Americans. Thankfully Hollywood hack Todd Phillips was able to document some of GG's remaining years in Hated: GG allin and the Murder Junkies. Phillips went on later to direct banal comedies Old School, Road Trip, and Starsky & Hutch. Five minutes of Hated has more comedic spirit than all of Phillips other films combined.

GG loves to expose his master chode while fondling it with his own shit. GG Allin recycles this same shit with his mouth. He also manages to fight his fans naked at various concerts (many times resulting in trips to the hospital and prison). I guess that would make Mr. Allin a real "punk rocker." Punk enough to scare Dee Dee Ramone out of the Murder Junkies just a couple days after joining. Maybe GG, Dee Dee, and Joey Ramone are covering Joe Meek songs in hell right now (Mr. Meek is obviously in Heaven playing to angels).

Hated is also possibly the best music related documentary ever produced. The documentary is obviously low budget and even amateurish. That doesn't matter considering the brilliance in the documented concert footage, interviews, and piss drinking. It's also great way to get a glimpse into the loyal followers of the fallen GG Allin Army. Fan Unk is a true American patriot and drinker of piss water.
